

1865-1875 \pm

Simon Newcomb and other mathematicians worked on new formulas for calculating the orbits of MOON, MERCURY, VENUS, EARTH, MARS, URANUS, and NEPTUNE.

We hired George Hill to work on the orbits of the most difficult planetary orbits - Jupiter & Saturn